THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

President Roca's Message on the opening of his third Congress, and which we spread out to our readers to-day, is one of the fairest and brightest pictures of national affairs that has ever fallen to the lot of an Argentine President to draw. With great truth H. E. says that no other President has had the satisfaction of opening Congress in an epoch of greater national happiness and prosperity.

This Message is more a plain statement of facts, supplemented with some official figures, than anything else, and therefore will be the more prized by those who place more faith in simple facts than in bombastic political programmes.

To our mind, this Message reveals the real and true vitality of the nation, and what the country can effect of itself when let alone. The year's peace, and quiet, temperate administration of public affairs, has proved a year of the most remarkable progress. Line upon line of this Presidential Message, one can trace how the country is growing, and how that growth has been fostered and supported by the Government, and by the careful employment of the vast capital that the credit of the Nation has secured.

The trade of the Republic with Europe has risen within the last few years from ninety millions pats. to one hundred and thirty-five millions pats.; and this wondrous growth was more accentuated last year than in any previous term. Before General Roca leaves office, if we march as we are going, the River Plate trade will reach two hundred millions pats., and our exports, spite of the fall in prices in the European markets—spite of droughts, bad seasons, etc—have risen to the splendid figure of 60,389,052 pats., being an increase of close on two and a-half millions of pats. over the previous year.

We commend to our readers the chapter on "Hacienda," since it will be seen that President Roca throws out some very wise remarks on the consolidation of the National Debt into a 5 per cent. stock and the abolition of the present system of amortization. The revenue reached last year the highest figures ever known in the Annals of Argentine Hacienda, being 26,763,985 pats, and the expenditure amounted to 25,354,996, which shows a surplus in the treasury of 1,408,988.

We do remember how, last Congress, fears were expressed that the revenue would fall short, and that there would be a heavy deficit, but the result proved otherwise; and President Roca, instead of having a deficit to contend with, has a surplus, which the Minister has employed in paying off the floating debt.

The arrival of immigrants shows an increase of close on 20,000 over the previous year; and the figures we have so far, for the present year, go to show that in 1883 there will be a still further increase.

In fact, plain it is that we are fast marching on to 100,000 immigrants per annum, which in the long run is the back-bone of the progress of this nation. President Roca has set his heart upon peopling the camps he reclaimed from the Indians, and this year Congress will be called on to help this cause. New towns, with 16 square leagues for farms, chacras, and even small estancias for the agricultural emigrants landing on our shores, will soon turn the lonely desolation of the frontier camps into busy centres of thriving, happy industry.

With sublime political wisdom, Gen. Roca has availed of the present prosperous opportunity to ask Congress to restore the Argentine officers who were ostracised in 1880 to their former military ranks. Heart and hand we are with H. E. in this measure, since the nation is now so strong and so prosperous, it can afford to let bygones be by-gones; and the Government does well to remove as far as possible all those lines which, to the detriment of the country, so long divide, its people. The motives which prompt General Roca to this step cannot be misunderstood; it is one consonant with his every act since he assumed power, and proves that generosity of character with which the River Plate public has so correctly credited him.

The following is H. E.'s Message:—

Messrs Senators and Deputies.

Up to the present time, no President of the Republic has had the satisfaction of opening the Argentine Parliament at an epoch of greater promise and prosperity than this.

All the vital powers of the country, all the varied sources of wealth which it contains, are being developed with an impetus and to an extent truly extraordinary, under the fostering hand of credit and general confidence.

We are now reaping the fruit of internal peace, the consolidation of the National Government, the systematic course of the Administration, the free and circumspect play of our institutions (without the violent conflicts of days gone bye) and the frank cordiality and harmony of our relations with all other nations.

We have now set all sail, in spite of those querulous spirits who affect to discern clouds in the fairest of horizons and refuse to believe the evidence of events. Such men are but the stragglers that fall out from the ranks of every column on the march—be that column legions, peoples, races, or Humanity itself in its active career.

If, in spite of those repeated stumbles in the "via crucis" of our organization, which all nations experience, and have experienced, we have risen with fuller life, vigour and confidence in the future, how will it be if we are able even to hold our own now for ten years more?

Let this be our public aim; let us adhere to this programme, and the light now dawning over the Republic will become like unto another Eastern star, announcing to the world that, in this Southern extremity of the American Continent there is a nation, four times as large as France and quite as fertile, open to all, equally free from caste, social or religious prejudices, Tyranny or Communism, a new Temple on the face of the Earth, consecrated to Liberty and all the Rights of Man.

While we develop, the work of the Administration increases, and it is not possible, in an address like this, to give you a full record of the year. I will only attempt to give you a general idea of the salient points, leaving details to the Cabinet Ministers in their respective Reports.

INTERIOR.

The most perfect order reigns in every part of the Republic, the National and Provincial authorities being in the full exercise of their respective duties.

A full report of what occurred in Santiago del Estero, after your last session, in reference to the election of the Governor, will be laid before you. The legality of one of the Legislatures was disputed; National intervention was asked for, but refused by the Government, the case not being one provided for by the Constitution.

THE CAPITAL.

The city of Buenos Ayres is about to initiate the election of its Municipality by the people, with all the attributes and faculties accorded by the Act of November, 1882. It will vote its own expenditure and taxes, name its own employees, and attend to local interests—such as health, adornment, streets and everything in reference to the improvement and embellishment of the Capital of the nation.

The Government, duly authorised by said Act, issued reglamentary decrees for the elections, which have just taken place with perfect freedom. In referring to this, it is but right to mention the services of the out-going Municipality, and recommend to your consideration its President and all the members. Their attention to the interests of the city was remarkable, and they carried out numerous and important public works without imposing new taxes, and solely with the resources bequeathed to them by a Corporation that had fallen into public disrepute. Such is the power of an orderly and honourable administration. To prove this, we have the San Roque Hospital, the Buenos Aires Hospital, the Mercedes Refuge, the Beggars' Asylum, and many other charitable institutions put into a state of repair, 93 squares well paved and several others more or less roughly; the public lighting extended, the streets kept clean, the Recoleta Promenade made, and many other useful and necessary works carried out to the unanimous satisfaction of the public.

The Municipal Revenue has yielded 1,766,206 hard dollars, which was greatly in excess of the estimates, which were only 1,249,480.

The Municipal Commissioners, after paying all expenses and the first coupons on the Bonds issued under the Act of November, 1882, have a surplus in hands of 176,792 hard dollars. Let us trust that the new elective Municipality will take inspiration from such honourable predecessors.

While referring to the Capital, I must say a few words about its important Sanitary Works. Suspended for a long time, for reasons known to you, their completion has recently become a public necessity for health, and even life. As I told you last year, the contract for the direction of the works having been signed, and tenders called for in Europe and America, serious difficulties arose to delay a definite decision. But now every obstacle has disappeared, and the Executive has just accepted the tender it considered the most favourable for the State.

In a short time, therefore, these works, so necessary, will be completed; the population will have an abundance of good water, public cleanliness will be perfect; the refuse incident to a great city will no longer be a source of danger to health, and the capital of the Republic will have the most perfect system of Drainage and Water Supply in the civilized world.

RAILWAYS

On the ten lines of railways—National, provincial and private—now being laid down in the Republic, there are 14,500 navvies at work, and this figure alone shows the progress we are making in means of communication. Nevertheless, all this is unequal to meet the growing wants, even of places that were considered the most barren.

Thus, no matter in what direction a railway is laid down, production, trade and population spring up as if by magic. The desire of the people for such a powerful agent of wealth is quite natural, and the efforts of the engineers, and the lines building, are equally unable to satisfy it. Very soon these walls will echo the public demands in this direction.

The Central North Railway yielded in 1881 593,018 hard dollars, and in 1882 819,610, an increase of $226,592. The increase in the goods traffic was 19,000 tons. The line is being relaid and the rolling stock improved and increased.

No efforts have been spared to impart vigour to the works on the extension to Salta, and all the necessary materials for carrying them ahead have been collected. Very great difficulties were met with just outside Tucuman, owing to the nature of the soil and the scarcity of labour and means of transport; but they have, for the most part, been surmounted, and the works are going on vigorously. On the 1st April the directing engineer had 3,200 navvies at work, and, during the year 1882, in spite of all the difficulties in the way, over a million cubic metres of earth were removed; and, any extra effort made to finish this railway being as nothing compared with its importance to the country, the Minister of the Interior is now on his way to inspect the works, accompanied by a committee of engineers of recognized capacity. The surveys of this line are completed as far as San José de Metan, and the most convenient route thence to Jujuy is now being considered.

The Executive has decided to ask the Government of Bolivia, on its side, to make the surveys necessary for extending the line to the chief cities of that Republic, as the relations and importance of the trade between both countries demand the speedy carrying out of this enterprise.

The Andine Railway produced in 1882 49-83 per cent more than in 1881, in spite of the lack of waggons and locomotives, which are only now beginning to arrive from Europe and North America. The most difficult part of the line has been carried through the province of San Luis; and I can give you an assurance that, in the beginning of next year, the locomotive will be at the foot of the Andes, resting, after its long journey, under the shade of the leafy avenues of Mendoza. The zeal and intelligence of the Director General of the works of this other great iron artery of the Republic are worthy of all praise.

The branch to Santiago was commenced at the end of last year, and there are 1,000 navvies at work on it. The railways guaranteed by the Nation—the Central Argentine, the Campana and the Eastern—have all increased their traffic considerably, the first named line especially, and its rolling stock is quite insufficient to meet the demands of trade and industry on it, so much so that there is a general complaint from all the provinces served by this great line.

The Transandine Railway, which starts from Mercedes, in the province of Buenos Aires, and will join the Andine at Mercedes in San Luis, after its course over lovely plains that were, not long ago, the haunt of the savages, is now being laid down at both ends of the line.

The surveys of the line to Rioja and Catamarca are finished from Recreo to Chambicha, and are being continued from this point to both cities. I hope that you will, this year, vote the funds necessary to commence the works.

The province of Buenos Aires has given a great impulse to the extension of its railways, which are spreading out, like rays, to the furthest boundaries of its territory.

The province of Santa Fe, with its own credit and resources, has commenced two lines—from Rosario and its Capital—to its numerous wheat colonies.

Private enterprise and the desire for works on a large scale which is now apparent will certainly, ere long, come to second the efforts of the Governments.

PORTS.

The canalization works on the Riachuelo, Barracas, are being carried on with the same vigour as the railways. The satisfactory results obtained show how easy it is to solve the question of a Port for Buenos Aires. There is no longer any doubt on the point. Experience has confirmed the views of science. On the 25th January the steamer Italia (1,120 tons) entered the Riachuelo, and, in two hours after, the emigrants she brought were comfortably housed in the 'Asilo.' In a year more, the channel will be deep enough for vessels drawing 20 feet; but it will be necessary to still further increase its capacity, to accommodate all the ships that come to this bank of the Rio de la Plata.

The Executive is at this moment engaged in bringing these works—which yield greater facilities daily—under the provisions of the Port Act which you passed last year, and if this cannot be effected within a reasonable time for State interests, there will be time to lay before you during the present Session a definite scheme for continuing the works.

ROADS, BRIDGES, AND OTHER PUBLIC WORKS.

The high roads are kept in fair condition. Orders have been given to straighten that from Jujuy to Quiaca and finish that known as Quebrada del Toro, in the Province of Salta. The bridge over the river Sali has been opened to traffic. It cost $151,304.

Orders have likewise been given to hasten the completion of the bridge over the Rio Desaguadero, and to prepare to throw another across the river Gualeguay, in the Province of Entre Rios.

The works on the wharf and branch railway in the port of Rosario have been commenced, and the Government has taken the necessary steps to ensure that the contract be duly carried out within the time specified in it. This important work admits of no delay, as such would be injurious to the trade of Rosario.

The embankment works in the Port of Santa Fé, those on the river San Juan, the Funes dyke in San Luis, the enlarging of the Government House, the erection of the Academy of Sciences in Cordoba, and the wharf at Zarate are all being carried forward actively.

We are badly off for the public buildings necessary for good administration, and the nation pays large sums in rent, which is gradually rising with the progress of the country. It will be necessary to sanction the erection of some of the buildings required, and the Minister of the Interior will lay before you plans and estimates for those that are the most needed, such as the Government House, Congress Hall, a General Hospital for Women and an Immigrants' Asylum. In addition, buildings for the Police Department, for post-offices in the riverine towns, and for the Commissaries and Justices of Peace of the Capital are now indispensable.

The National Telegraph Offices transmitted last year 438,090 despatches, an increase of 18 per cent. over 1881.

POST AND TELEGRAPH.

The increase in postal and telegraphic communication continues. Last year 17,757,610 letters, newspapers, etc., were despatched. One-fifth of this correspondence was with abroad; showing an increase of 20 per cent. over 1881. New services have been opened in several provinces; the lines of diligences and horse-post have been increased, and, in the estimates for the coming year, further new offices will be proposed, to facilitate epistolary relations all over the Republic. The receipts of the Postal branch in 1882 were $417,066, an increase over 1881 of $46,827.

The following lines have been constructed:—

From Patagones to the Boca del Rio Negro.

From Bahia Blanca to the Port there.

From the Capital to Quilmes.

From Federacion to Paso de los Libres.

From Paso de los Libres to Uruguayana.

From Santa Fe to Puerto Gomez.

From Paso de los Libres to Santo Tome.

The total length of these new lines is 478 kilometres.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs has signed a convention with the Uruguayan Republic to join the lines of both countries; and, in fulfilment of the agreement with Bolivia, the materials for the line from Tupisa to Potosi have been handed over.

The Argentine and the Brazilian lines have been joined at Uruguayana, thus opening another line of communication with Rio and Europe.

New offices have been opened, and the Telegraph receipts in 1882 were $f. 271,051, an increase of $f. 48,617.

The Executive recommends for your consideration the Bill laid before you last year for abolishing postal and telegraph franking.

PUBLIC LANDS.

On the promulgation of the Act of November 1882, which authorises the disposal of National lands, regulations for the sale of same were issued. The surveys of the Pampa lands destined to amortize the loan raised in 1878 to remove the frontier to the Rio Negro, have been continued. From the reports of the Engineers' Department, it appears that 5438 leagues have been surveyed and their mensurement approved.

The Fifth Section of Buenos Aires has also been surveyed. In the triangle formed by the rivers Limay and Neuquen, 800 square leagues are now being surveyed, and the measuring of the lands on the Southern bank of the Rio Negro—from its mouth on the Atlantic to the island of Choele-Choel, is finished.

Orders have been issued to survey 100 square leagues in the Chaco and cut them up into the lots prescribed by the Act. When this work is concluded lands suited for every industry can be had on easy terms by all who wish to buy them.

MISIONES.

The reports received from the Governor of Misiones confirm the statements as to the great natural wealth of that region. Its present population is estimated at 8000, and the local administration is trying to improve their condition by appointing Municipal Commissioners in the principal towns, establishing primary schools, and stimulating the general development. The cultivation of sugar-cane, cotton, rice, tobacco, maize and other products, and the felling of the rich timber that abounds in that part of the republic ensure its future prosperity. The Government is making efforts to increase the steam communication, extend the telegraph, open roads, and throw bridges across the numerous rivers and streams that flow through that fertile territory.

THE CHACO

The development of the population of the Chaco is quite manifest. Interest in land there is awakening, and concessions for felling timber and founding pastoral establishments on large areas, are eagerly sought for. As in Misiones, the sugar cane and other products are cultivated with excellent results. The immense size of the Chaco Territory calls for a reform of its administrative organization. The interests of the settlers also call for it, as no matter howsoever zealous the functionary who governs that territory may be, it is impossible for him to attend properly to the wants of such an extensive jurisdiction.

PATAGONIA.

Patagonia, formerly a desert wild, is beginning to reap the fruits of the general internal peace existing, and the suppression of the frontier and the Indian enemy. The population is increasing and education is attended to by a Schoolastic Council. There are six schools, and a Justice of Peace and a Municipality renewed annually, have charge of the Judicial and Municipal Jurisdiction. Pastoral industry is extending in the Viedma district, and orders have been given to trace sites for four agricultural settlements on both banks of the Rio Negro, on land suitabe for tillage.

To increase the population in this vast territory, it is indispensable to establish a line of navigation along the southern coast, as far as Tierra del Fuego and States Island. The sum voted in this year's Budget for this purpose is quite inadequate. The Minister of the Interior will ask for an increased amount, so that the important object in view may be thoroughly attained.

I must here mention the necessity for an Act to define the boundaries of and the system of Government for the National territories. The vast area of some of them is a great impediment to proper administration, and it is indispensable to divide them and establish the boundaries they shall have when they become autonomous states.

The Minister of the Interior will lay before you, in due course, a Bill dealing with this subject.

IMMIGRATION.

Although immigration has not yet reached the figures which we had hoped for, considering our favourable conditions from every point of view, it has, nevertheless, shown a notable increase during the past year. In 1881 32,817 emigrants arrived, and in 1882 51,503, an increase of 18,686 in favour of last year. I must note that the immigrants—for the most part farmers—go to the Interior; but a quite unexpected flow of them has recently set in to Bahia Blanca, an important port on the Atlantic, and which, by its position, having at its back an immense and fertile territory that could not possibly have a better port for its products, is destined very soon to be one of our greatest commercial centres.

The increase in our Immigration is purely spontaneous, as the Executive has not had at command any pecuniary resources wherewith to impart an impulse to it. When the funds for this purpose are provided, and, as will shortly be the case, the system of 'propaganda' approved by you last year put in force, and we are better known in the great human bee-hives of Europe, and land offered on favourable conditions; and if, above all, we keep the peace as at present—immigration will come to our shores in compact masses that, no matter how numerous, will find ample field and generous reward for their toil.

COLONIZATION.

Colonization has been attended to as far as the votes of money for it admitted, but the sums allowed are inadequate and should be increased. Some colonies have been surveyed, others are in process of being measured, and orders have been given to trace sites for two new ones on the slopes of the Andes, four in Patagonia, and three in Misiones.

The Province of Santa Fé is still the advanced guard in colonization, and now possesses 78 colonies, with 55,143 settlers, who produced last year over a million fanegas of wheat alone.

Entre Rios has 17 colonies with 9,905 settlers.

The other provinces are beginning to think seriously about populating their lands now lying idle. Cordoba has placed at the command of the National Government 8 leagues (surveyed) in the Department of Rio Cuarto.

The time, therefore, is drawing near when we shall be able to send precise maps and offer, in the very centres of emigration, lots of lands in any part of the Republic to suit all new comers in soil and climate.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Our relations with European States have not altered, and the Legations you established in them contribute efficatously towards making our country better known and developing our commercial interests. We constantly receive invitations to take part in Scientific Congresses held there. The Executive, on its side, has always tried to reciprocate these attentions, and lent every assistance to the many scientific Commissions that recently visited this country.

Our relations with the Empire of Brazil are still on the best footing, without the slightest fear of their becoming otherwise, both peoples and their Governments cooperating to strengthen the mutual friendly feeling that exists.

We are on equally good terms with the other American nations, and more especially with our neighbours the Oriental Republic, Paraguay and Bolivia, who are each day bound closer to us in the bonds of peace and labour.

The recent disagreeable incident in the Andes (a minute investigation of which the Executive is now engaged in) and the absence of any Chilian Minister here, has in no way impaired the confidence and harmony between both republics.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs will lay before you a full and detailed report of our relations abroad.

FINANCE.

The public Revenue, our trade and credit are "pari passu" in the ascendant with the general progress of the country. The Receipts in 1882 were $26,763,985, or an increase of 7-58 per cent over 1881. The receipts for the first quarter of this year show a proportionate increase over those of 1882, and 16-34 per cent over 1881. At this rate our Revenue will double every seven years.

I promised you in my last Message to economize as much as possible in the Expenditure, without impairing the public service, so that, at the close of the financial year, it should not exceed the Revenue. I am happy to tell you that I have been able to do even more than I hoped for in this direction. Whilst the General Revenue of the nation reached $26,763,985, we have spent on the ordinary cost of administration only $25,354,996, leaving a surplus of $1,408,988; which, with the $3,712,962 produced by the Treasury Bills issued under the Act of 3rd November 1881, the balance of $2,312,704 on hand on 31st December of same year, and other sums obtained by advantageous credit operations, has been employed in paying off old debts, leaving the Treasury in a position to clear off the last of these old debts in a very few days.

Old debts to the amount of $8,687,503 have been paid as follows:—

Debts of former years, ordered to be paid in 1882—$f. 2,177,814.

Debts due in several years, up to 1881, inclusive $f. 6,509,695.

Total $f. 8,687,509.

Our international trade, imports and exports reached 2,976,193 tons, its Customs value being $f. 139,261,763, showing an increase over 1881 of $f. 18,949,490, and over 1880 of $f. 33,669,526, equivalent to an increase of more than 16 per cent over 1881, and about 32 per cent over 1880.

The total value of Imports was $f. 61,246,163, including $f. 4,665,134, in railway materials and industrial and agricultural machinery, and this we should not take into account when striking our commercial balance, as these articles, instead of being consumed during the year like the rest, are agents of increased production.

The Exports reached $f. 60,389,052, showing an increase of $f. 2,450,865 over 1881. The difference between exports and imports, counting the $f. 4,665,134 spent in machinery, rails and implements of labour, is barely $f. 857,111, an insignificant sum which cannot be taken as showing a want of equilibrium between imports and exports.

The trade in Transit was $f. 17,626,548.

The service of the Consolidated Public Debt has been attended to with the strictest punctuality.

On the 31st Decb. 1881 the Debt was $f. 82,048,004, and at the end of 1882 $f. 94,565,787; $f. 3,625,257 having been amortized during the year, while the new emissions were $f. 14,283,788.

Allow me to observe that that amortization was a genuine reduction in the amount of our debt, whilst the increased emission was merely a transformation of debts already in existence, or the acquisition of reproductive works which will more than cover the interest and amortization on the Bonds issued. In those 14 millions are included the $f. 9,678,735 handed to the Provincial Bank of Buenos Aires in payment of the debt of the National Government previous to the year 1876, thus transforming a Debt which absorbed a twelfth part of the National income into another far less onerous; and the $f. 2,430,931 paid for expropriating the Riachuelo works, the revenue from which, independent of the great benefit which traders will derive from them, is sufficient to meet the interest and amortization on the capital sunk.

Not a single dollar of the Railway Loan has been spent for any other but its original purpose. Its net proceeds were $f. 10,104,218; and of this sum, there has been spent up to the present—in materials, and the extension of the Andine, and Central Northern and the branch to Santiago, $f. 9,027,627, leaving available $f. 1,077,197, which shall all be applied to the work in hand.

The quotations of our public debt have shown a constant tendency to rise during the past year. All those who, trusting in the honour of the Nation, invested in these securities, have made large profits. We have reason to congratulate ourselves on this; but it is also right that the country should also profit from its high credit, by converting its burdensome debts into others at lower interest.

MR McCLYMONT'S MURDER.

FULL DETAILS.

We have received from the most authentic source the following details of the recent sad event on the frontier which has cast such a gloom over our community:—

Mr McClymont did not, as first reported, take ony cattle with him on his fatal expedition. He, with Messrs Purvis and McPhail, and 9 men, started simply to reconnoitre the land where he intended to plant his new estancia, and he left his cattle behind, at Trenquelauquen. One of the men had to turn back during a halt, having sat down on a knife stuck in the ground, injuring himself badly. When some distance out, near the woods, the party came on a large "tropilla" of horses, which Mr McClymont gave orders to secure and place with his own; and two Indians, with no covering but tiger skins, were seen sneaking away through the 'monte.' Mr McClymount then gave orders to advance on the wood which the two savages had entered, and the party soon found themselves face to face with a large band of Indians (mostly naked) and desperadoes, two of them dressed in soldiers' clothes and armed with Remingtons, the rest with long lances. It is not very accurately known which side began the fray, but a desperate fight ensued. Mr McClymont's peons, who were guarding the horses, left them to help their leader, and then some Indians galloped out and drove off the whole of them, their own and all those belonging to the party. The fight was severe, but, overpowered by numbers, Mr McClymont and his men at last turned rein towards Trenquelauquen.

The Indians followed them after a short time and soon overtook them. The retreating party, seeing that there was but little hope for them, resolved to sell their lives dearly, and accordingly dismounted. Soon the dusky foe was on them, and then came a fight for life. Seeing the fearful odds against them, McClymont ordered two peons to ride back towards Trenquelauquen for help. They set off at full speed, and the last they saw of their unfortunate "patron" and friends, on turning in their saddles, was that all were fighting bravely against the fearful odds.

How long the unequel struggle lasted none can tell, but when the Commissary of Police of Trenquelauquen, with 18 men, most of them neighbours who had volunteered for the service arrived on the spot, they found Mr. McClymont, Mr. Purvis, Mr. McPhail and four peons dead. Poor McClymont was found stone dead, the life-current having ebbed speedily through eight ferocious lance wounds. There were no other wounds on his body. McPhail had his left arm shattered by a bullet just below the shoulder joint, and also several lance wounds, the latter being the cause of death. Purvis had a bullet in his right shoulder, and had also been done to death with lances. Four peons lay dead by the side of the others, all killed by lances. Two of the Indian "vaqueanos" Mr. McClymont, had with him were missing; one of them was Negretti, Pincen's quondam right hand man, yet he fought valiantly to save his white employers. The other Indian is probably the one reported to have been rescued by the troops from General Acha.

It must be mentioned that when the two peons sent by Mr. McClymont to Trenque-Lauquen for help reached that place, the Commissary of Police acted with an energy worthy of all praise and soon had his men in the saddle; but they were too few for the rescue, and a noble German merchant of the town, whose name we have not yet been favoured with, came forward and volunteered, and was soon followed by several others of his brave countrymen, so that the pasty, well armed, would have been a match for the 'Pampa' murderers, if they had met them. We understand that this brave German merchant was the very life and soul of the preparations for the rescue, which, alas, came too late, but none the less do we thank him and his gallant countrymen for their efforts to save ours.

THE LOAU-LAUQUEN TRAGEDY

General Inspector and Comendancia of Arms.

B. Aires, May 2nd, 1883

To H.E. the Minister of War and Marine.

I beg to acquaint Y.E., in answer to the telegram sent to Colonel D. Ernesto Rodriguez, asking for some information respecting the Indian Chiefs Guaugaiguen and Neipan, who invaded Loau-Lauquen, the following original telegram answers it:—

There are at present on the march some detachments belonging to the 2nd Brigade and two corresponding to the 3rd, one of which is commanded by Sergeant Major Don Julio Alba, and closely pursuing the invader; in a short time the result will be known, of which I shall accordingly inform Y.E.

God guard Y.E.

Joaquin Viejobueno

Mercedes, May 2nd, 1883

(Dated 1st, at 10 a.m.)

Official—Y. E.'s telegram to hand. The information regarding the Indian Chiefs Guangaiguen and Neipan, according to the particulars I have furnished by Captain Loscosa, commander of the 3rd Brigade is as follows—

It is confidently hoped that those who attacked the "pobladores" in Loau-Lauquen, will be hunted down by the forces that have followed them, so that who they really were will be determined, and if Indians, from where they came, and how they were able to carry out their crime with such perfection, which, according to the latest details, has unfortunately resulted in the death of several individuals, and not the carrying away of a few head of cattle.

You will notify the Commanders of these Brigades to collect every information and the most minute details regarding the "personal" of these highway robbers, acquainting them with the fact that Pincen has been suspected of connivance with them, owing to the communications of the local authority who states that he still shows a haughty and indomitable spirit, looking for a means to establish communication with the Indians who are peacefully working in different places.

Although now and then in the wide open camps a crime may be committed, which we are not to wonder at if perpetrated in camps more thickly populated and settled, still it is the determination of the Government that henceforward such things be impossible, and that the numerous settlers, who are now going out to those camps, shall be fully and absolutely guaranteed by the authorities by the zeal and vigilance of the "Gefes" and by the strength and moral discipline of the troops at their orders.

God guard Y.E.

Benjamin Victorica

War and Marine Office,

Buenos Aires, April 30th, 1883.

To the General Inspector and Commander of Arms.

The recent tragedy in Loau-Lauquen shows that notwithstanding the marches effected by the 2nd and 3rd Brigade of the 3rd Division, of which its commanders have reported on, and the strategical points established, neither the one nor the other are sufficient.

The fact is all the more to be regretted as each one of these Brigades is composed of a battalion of infantry and a regiment of cavalry, a sufficient force for the complete protection of our Nat. central pampa and the provinces that border on it, and for which object they have been created.

Y. E. will please issue the necessary orders that these strategical points be so strengthened that the line from the Colorado to Rio Quinto be completely protected, whilst small detachments constantly scour the banks of the Colorado and Chalileo and the places likely to be frequented by Indians or "Gauchos matreras."

Between Acha and Victoria, between that point and the Colorado, the line should be confined by close detachments, without interfering with the placing of some troops at the principal points of the rearguard roads and the settled on districts of these territories.

These Indians, counting some 40 lances, came with Yancawil from Chile, passing in by fort La Gama, to the extreme right of the 3rd Brigade, at the beginning of March last, when they killed 3 soldiers of the 1st infantry being followed by forces belonging to the above mentioned Brigade, commanded by the captain of the friendly Indians, Petriganuca, but without any result. After this Guaygaiquen and Naipen with 17 Indians separated, three of which returned and made towards the north of Buenos Aires, Yancamil invading with the rest the frontier district I commanded, where nearly all of them were killed and taken prisoners by the detachments I sent after them, an account of which I give to Y. E.

On the supposition that there are still Indians within the frontier lines, I have despatched one detachment in the direction of Loau Lauquen, and another towards Choique Mabuida, no news of the former having yet arrived.

To conclude, the Indians do not number more than 14, including some deserters and 'Gauchos ladrones.' I am awaiting the results of the parties sent out belonging to the 3rd Brigade and of those belonging to my own regiment, who will not fail to catch them in their dens, should they escape from those who are closely pursuing them.

I am etc.

Colonel Rodriguez

THE OLD STORY.

Corrientes, April 30, 1883.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Sir,

Will you kindly publish in your paper the following few lines? It will be of some benefit to us who are living out in this province:—

Two of the murderers of M'Donald and Guthrie are at large: one is in Chajari, the other is employed as a policeman in Caseros.

This is a scandal to the authorities here, and it should certainly be brought before the notice of the British Minister, so that justice may be done.

In Entre Rios, of late, two Englishmen were murdered, and, I expect, the same result will follow with the murderers as here.

I trust you will do your best in giving publicity to this, as through these murders no one cares to come here.

Yours, very truly,

Constant Reader.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Jupiter Pluvius is no lover of racing, and we fear his charity is of the "at home" type. He behaved shamefully on Thursday and extinguished the opening of Congress, the Races at Lanus and the Athletic Sports, to say nothing of all private amusement plans for the day.

The National Senators had no stomach for facing the rain on Thursday, so a decree appeared postponing the opening of the National Parliament till yesterday, when the ceremony took place with the usual pomp. We give the President's Message in other columns. It shows a splendid prospect for the country, and few Presidents of this nation have ever read a brighter Message to its Parliament.

At the meeting held yesterday at the Irish Orphanage, the arrangement for transferring the property to a body legally representing the Irish residents was not concluded, there being only forty persons present, the necessary number to give legality to the proceedings being fifty. Another meeting will be called early in June.

The race meeting at Lanus on Thursday was a severe disappointment to some of our sporting friends; in fact, it was a regular case of "no go," both for horses and turfites, and those who ventured to the course returned sadder, wiser, and no poorer men. The "venue" is changed to the Hippodrome, and the day will be Sunday, the 6th. All the sporting world will be there, and nothing short of a two-days deluge will keep anybody at home. Consolation to ruffled plumes respectfully offered.

The accident at the Central Station on Thursday, which unfortunately led to the death of one of the waiters at the Universalle, seems to have been the result of carelessness. One of the passengers bound for the Tigre had given him his valise to look after. He succeeded in getting it stowed away all right in the luggage van, but on turning to alight, found the train in motion. In the hurry and scare of the moment, it is not exactly known how, the poor fellow fell under the wheels and was crushed to death. Stricter regulations ought to be enforced with regard to moving trains, as they are in other countries, and these accidents, few as they are, would be reduced to a minimum.

A new fire escape is proposed for the Colon. It does not in any way stop the progress of the fire or facilitate directly a means of escape; it simply warns you by electricity to clear out in the fastest manner possible, minus hat, hair and everything that is not adhesive. However, as there is to be a 'Bombero' on the scene, also a part of the apparatus, it is to be hoped that the anti-crematonists are about to gain a great triumph.

The General Villegas Reception Committee held a meeting last night at the Military Club, in Calle Florida, to make arrangements for a demonstration to the gallant officer who has ended the long struggle with the savage denizens of the Pampa. From what we hear, it will be a grand affair. The General comes up in the Villarino, which will leave Patagones on Sunday.

All the High Lifers who had remained in their summer quarters up to the present are pouring back to town for the opening of the opera season. It is wonderful how our fashionable folks love, or pretend to love, music.

The Tribuna has got into hot water for publishing the President's Message on Thursday. The Tribuna Nacional says the matter will be brought before the Fiscal de Crimen. So much for "trop de zele."

It is an agreeable duty we have to perform to-day in giving our readers, especially the 'beau sexe', an account of the splendid 'Conferencia Concierto" which took place on Wednesday night at the Spanish Club in celebration of the Independence of Spain. About 8 o'clock we entered the saloons, which were splendidly decorated for the occasion, and found assembled there the "creme" of the Spanish residents in Buenos Aires. After a splendid rendering of Verdi's Nabuco by the orchestra, Dr Rafael Calzada delivered a spirited and patriotic address which the repeated applause of a large audience stamped as an effort of undoubted merit. Not alone is he one of our foremost lawyers, but also well known as one of our most eloquent orators. Recitation and the choicest selections from Verdi and Raff succeeded each other and were received with no less applause. We pass over the second part of the programme which want of space alone prevents us from noticing in a more adequate manner. At 11 o'clock Terpsichore was installed and kept all the company present in such high spirits that even the weightiest cares were forgotten, and as proof thereof, we noticed one of the Directors of the National Bank amusing himself as light-hearted as any. As Spanish and Porteña ladies are, in general, all very handsome, it would be difficult to say who was the queen of the night; nevertheless, we heard many say that Miss D. Basabe carried off the palm of beauty. Among those present we noticed the Spanish Minister, Messrs Salvador Gomez, Dr Calzado, Castells, Barros, families of Basabe, Piuggari, Hayo, Medina, Buhigas, Otero, Corti and a great many others.

Hamlet.

The Volpi and Patroni muddle has cropped up again on the other side of the river, as the Italian Government insists on its pound of flesh in the matter, and another Diplomatic rumpus is expected if Uruguay does not give it.

The once despised 'cardo negro' is coming to the front. We hear of a sale of 'capones' parted from a flock

BANCO HIPOTECARIO

Esta abierto al servicio público todos los dias de trabajo desde las 10 de la mañana hasta las 4 de la tarde.
Presta sobre hipoteca con reembolso á largos plazos.
Por el valor del prestamo de cedulas hipotecarias que producen una renta igual al interes que cobra el Banco.
El valor del inmueble hipotecado no debe ser menor de $f 2000 ni el prestamo menos de $f.500.
Los prestamos hipotecarios no pueden exceder de la mitad del valor del inmueble.
El interesado se obligara a pagar una anualidad que dure todo el termino del contrato. La anualidad se compone del interes del capital prestado, del fondo destinado á amortizarlo y de la comision del Banco. La anualidad se divide en trimestres, y las cedulas que al presente da el Establecimiento son:—
Serie E.
Dura 20 años 100 dias 6 o/o de interes, 2 o/o de amortizacion y 1 o/o de comision.
Pagadas las anualidades convenidas por todo el tiempo del contrato, queda la hipoteca redimida, y libre el deudor de las obligaciones hacia el Banco. El deudor podra libertar el inmueble, en todo o parte, anticipandose el contrato.
El que pretendiese prestamos del Banco se presentara por escrito, designando el inmueble que ofrece en hipoteca de una manera precisa, acompañando los titulos de propiedad, los boletos de contribucion directa y espresando al mismo tiempo su estension el gravamen, o los gravamenes que deben ser levantados simultaneamente que se constituya el credito hipotecario. En la Secretaria encontraran el formulario y las tablas de amortizacion.
Los deudores por trimestres haran las entregas de 8 a 15 de Enero, 8 a 15 de Abril, 8 a 15 de Junio, 8 a 15 de Octubre.
Con el fondo cobrado por amortizacion, se rescataran cedulas por sorteos a la par, y con anticipacion de un trimestre.
Las ventas de las cedulas trimestrales las pagara el Banco de 1 a 15 de Enero, de 1 a 15 de Abril, de 1 a 15 de Junio y de 1 a 15 de Octubre.
El Banco podra servir de intermediario gratuito entre el capitalista y el hipotecario para la colocacion comercial de las Cedulas. A este objeto recibira depositos sin interes, que para su colocacion tendran la prelacion con que entraron al Banco.—Estos depositos pasaran al Banco de la Provincia.
El mismo Banco hipotecario recibe sus cedulas en deposito gratuito, dando al depositante una libreta que servira de certificado del deposito.
El deposito se admite desde una cedula de $f.50 que es el minimum de las que emite el Establecimiento.

LANMAN & KEMP'S. Pure Medicinal Cod-Liver Oil.—A rattling cough, which now and then brings blood, soreness and contraction of the chest, a feverish fluttering pulse, an unatural flush in the cheeks, night-sweats, emaciation, growing debility, all warn the consumptive patient that life is in peril. Anodynes, expectorants, tonics, even change of climate is generally in vain. Let the invalid turn from these and try Lanman & Kemp's Pure Cod-Liver Oil. It is a supperior preparation of the only thing that experience has taught us can be relied upon in all such cases. Cod-Liver Oil, pure and undefiled, is the most powerful remedy for diseases of the lungs, throat, and liver, that has yet been discovered. Have faith in it, and give it a fair trial. But, be sure to ask for Lanman & Kemp's preparation for the market teems with imitations that are worse than useless. Examine the label and wrapper for the trade-mark of the firm. Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100⅜
Cedulas E	86⅜
National Bank Shares	106⅜
Old Gas Shares	1,500 m/c.

To-day the market was even less animated than on Wednesday, but prices for National Bank Shares and Cedulas opened good, only however to droop and show less interest before the closing hour. The holiday influence came into play and little inclination to do business was manifested.
National Bank Shares opened for the end of the month at 107, quickly selling down to 106⅜, 106⅝ and 106½, closing at ⅜. The fact, however, of the sellers being always the same gives ground for the belief that no great fall can be anticipated.
Cedulas Series A maintained their own at 100⅝; 7,000 being sold at this price for cash. Series E opened at 86½, soon declining to 86⅜, both for cash and end of month, at which price business closed weakish.
The sales at the ring were:—Cedulas Series A 7,000 for cash at 100⅝; 4,200 Series E at 86⅜; and 7,000 Series E for May 31st at 107
The sales at the ring were:—Cedulas Series A 7,000 for cash at 100⅝; 4,200 Series E at 86⅜; 20,000 Series E for May 31st at 86⅜ for May 5th; 7,000 Series A for cash at 100⅜; and 7,000 Series E for May 31st at 107

Primitive Gas Shares—
For cash 20 at $1,500%
Discounts easy and not much demand for money. National Government Proveedo Bills 8½ o/o. The private banks are not open to large transactions. There was no discount at the National Bank on Wednesday last.
Exchange rules weak; few drawers in the market, but with the Provincial Bank drawing no decline from present quotation of 49½ is to be anticipated.
At afterhours there was no business doing. The leading stockbrokers were engaged discussing the probabilities of the project about to be presented to Congress regarding the refusal of the National Bank Directors to receive payment in full from the subscribers to the new shares, who had previously preferred payment by cuotas.
The Villarino starts from Patagonia next Sunday. General Villegas and many of his officers come up in her.
Sr. Don Francisco Uriburu, who, as Vice-President of the Provincial Bank during the illness of Don Carlos Casares filled his chair, will, without a doubt, be the next President of the Bank. Sir D. Bernardo Calderon, at present in the Provincial Chamber of Deputies, will succeed, it is rumoured, Sr. Dantas as Chief of Police.
Mr. A. G. Goodall, President of the American Bank Note Company, New York, was enveloped in old friends on 'Change to-day. We believe he intends remaining here for some time.
The sales at the ring were as follows:—
Cedulas—

At the end of this year, the Consolidated Public Debt, at 6 per cent., including a small sum at 8 and 9 per cent., will be reduced to $75,418,201. The nation pays yearly, in interest and amortization, on this debt, $8,979,061. If the Conversion Bill which I laid before you last year had then been sanctioned, to redeem the above debt we should only have to issue $88,727,295 of 5 per cent. Bonds at, say, 85, the basis taken by the Finance Committee of the Senate. The interest and amortization on this new debt would only involve an annual outlay of $5,323,637.

If we issued the loan without amortization for 25 years—a system preferred by lenders when the credit of the country is high enough to inspire confidence—the annual service of same would only amount to $4,436,364. In the first case, we would save annually $3,655,423, which would be sufficient to cover the service of another debt, at the same interest and 1 per cent. amortization of $60,923,729. In the second case, the difference in our favour would be $4,542,696, with which we could pay interest on a new debt of $90,853,934.

In fact, we could without increasing our expenditure by a dollar, meet a debt of $149 millions, or of $179 millions, with the amount we are now disbursing annually for a Debt of only 75 millions. Such are the wonders of credit, which places immense resources in the hands of nations as of individuals.

No matter in what shape, therefore, the operation be effected, its advantages for the country are quite apparent. By a simple credit operation, we would be in a position to undertake with energy and confidence a thousand useful public works that would give an incalculable impulse to our progress. We would have more than sufficient resources to finish our great railway lines; to build others, and complete, so to say, our organization, improve our ports, which are in pretty much the same state as the Spaniards left them; to populate our desert territories, carrying laborious settlers to wherever the rails extend, and for many other works which would prove so many sources of general wealth and public revenue.

The burden we should thus lay on future generations with increased debt would be more apparent than real, as the money would be spent in improving the conditions and vivifying the producing sap of the patrimony.

Very different indeed such loans would be from those which now weigh us down; almost all of them contracted for war, revolution and disorder, which is simply throwing money into the street.

Australia, according to a celebrated French economist, is the first country in the world, owing to the immense amount of its debt in proportion to its population; nevertheless, this debt weighs no more than an atom on the fortunes of its inhabitants, as it is neutralized by a mass of national property of far greater value and rental.

Here, honourable gentlemen, you have the lever of Archimedes wherewith to produce the greatest of economical revolutions, such as a country so richly endowed by nature as the Argentine Republic has a right to expect.

Up to the 31st March of this year, the Mint has put in circulation 5,755,257 gold, silver and copper coins, representing a value of $4,154,519. Most of these coins are to-day in the safes of the banks, awaiting the moment when said banks, in compliance with the Act of November 5th 1881, shall withdraw from circulation the emission of notes under one dollar, and change their emission of different kinds of money into notes representing the National monetary unit. All the banks are preparing to comply with the Law, and you may rest assured that the monetary unity of the Nation will be definitely realized within the time prescribed, and, therefore during the current year.

I can, further, give you the assurance that, in this same year the Mint will have coined the whole amount of gold and silver prescribed in the Coinage Law, so that at last our circulation will be freed from the infinite variety of foreign money which forms such an impediment to trade and the development of public and private wealth.

Wishing to foment the development of our industries and begin a reduction in export dues, with all the caution necessary when it is a question of touching the resources with which we meet our most sacred obligations, I will propose to you, in the Customs Laws for next year, to suppress all dues on 'saladero' produce, excepting hides.

The Act ordering an increase in the capital of the National Bank has been complied with to the letter. The 70,000 shares offered to the public were all subscribed for, and the Bonds representing the Government shares were immediately delivered to the bank.

The Act has already begun to produce the benefits predicted, as shown by the reports and balance sheets of the establishment. The increase in its importance, its transactions and its usefulness is visible, and the bank thus represents a factor of progress which is showing itself in every industrial and commercial sphere in the country.

But, if the last Act has helped to develop personal credit, we must not forget that the vast unexplored wealth which our soil contains, and our national industries, demand likewise the assistance of the nation through increased facilities for credit on real estate.

It would not, therefore, be imprudent, or outside the attributes of the National Bank, to create a Mortgage Department, whose sole mission would be to advance, within the limits of the law, money on real estate, at long dates and moderate interest.

When the Government contributed to the capital of a bank' it did not do so with the idea of profit, or to be exclusive, but simply to supply elements for the service of the country and the increase of trade, supplying also the lack of private initiative and the deficiency of its resources.

I therefore persist in recommending for your consideration the urgent necessity, keenly felt, of passing a General Banking Act which will protect capital and place it, as in the United States, under the guard of national legislation. I beg you to note this fact: The number of State or Mixed Banks in the country is not in proportion to that of the private banks, and I do not consider that I am very wide of the truth in stating that one of the causes of the disproportion is the want of an Act to regulate the founding and facilities of credit establishments willing to comply with it, and which, through its support, would attract foreign capital.

JUSTICE.

In spite of our deficient legislation, the Judicial Power has regularly fulfilled its functions during the year, giving proof of great zeal and labour; but to make the administration of Justice easier and more speedy, I would remind you of the necessity of your sanctioning the reforms in the organization of the Tribunals which are awaiting your consideration.

As regards our criminal form of procedure, there is some improvement, but I must frankly tell you that it is still sadly defective. To secure a quicker decision of these cases, which is so necessary, both in the interest of those who may be innocent, and in that of morality and public order, to repress crime speedily, the Executive will lay before you in the present session a Bill embodying a code for Criminal Procedure. Your Committees have already received the Penal Code. The Minister of this department has done everything possible to hasten the framing of a Mining Code, the want of which is so much felt in the Republic, now more than ever, when the spirit of enterprise now developing gives the mines of the different provinces increased importance. If you should sanction these Bills, and the Civil Procedure Code that will shortly be laid before you, our most urgent wants will be supplied for the present.

WORSHIP.

I can, with much satisfaction, repeat the final words of this chapter in my last Message. The relations between this Government and the Holy See are cordial. Nothing has disturbed the perfect harmony between State and Church; the representatives of both have confined themselves to their respective faculties, the laws of the nation being quietly and faithfully observed.

In your Budget for this year you voted some money for the erection or completion of churches in different parts of the Republic, and the Minister is now applying this money as intended, which will, no doubt, conduce to the general progress of the country.

I must not close this chapter without reference to the sadness caused by the death of the humble, virtuous and illustrious Bishop of Cordoba, Fray Mamerto Esquin. The Argentine Church has lost in this priest one of its most enlightened servants, and the pulpit will no longer resound with his eloquent aad persuasive words, which were invariably inspired by truth and a love of country. The corpse of Fray Mamerto Esquin, embalmed by order of Government, rests in the vaults of the Cathedral of Cordoba.

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

The Executive has devoted specia attention to Public Instruction, which is exciting the keenest interest throughout the nation. All the provinces have accepted the Subvention Law. There are 1,505 schools supported by the nation, without counting the Normal and Application schools and those annexed to the National Colleges. 112,400 pupils attend the schools. In the capital there are 170 public schools and 118 private, attended by 38,190 pupils. It has not been possible to obtain exact information as to the private schools in the provinces, which would, no doubt, increase the foregoing figures considerably.

These data show our progress in education, but it is not yet what the country requires. In relation to the population, the number of schools is small, and for this renson also, the attendance at them is equally so. There is also a scarcity of competent teachers. We have only 13 Normal Schools in the whole Republic and, although 4 more are about to be opened immediately, they cannot supply sufficient teachers. This deficiency, with the want of means to open new schools, leaves a large number of children without the benefit's of education. For the same reason, the National Colleges are not well attended, as few pupils are prepared enough to enter them; and to meet this in some way, the Government established annexes in some schools, and they have given most satisfactory results.

Therefore, the opening of new Normal Schools and the provision of ample funds for primary instruction are now imperious necessities. The Education Commission has regulated its different departments of jurisdiction on the basis of the sums voted for it. With a distinguished citizen as President, it labours to put primary instruction on a solid basis; and it can be said that it has accomplished a great work in a short time—imparting method to the administration of the funds, inspecting the schools, deciding in a prudent way all difficulties with the provinces, and, finally, with very limited resources, building healthy, spacious and elegant school houses that will be an ornament to the city. The public school will no longer be in a rented house quite unfit for the purpose.

Other material improvements are being carried out in the other national educational establishments. Some have been enlarged, others repaired and all so far as means allowed, have been provided with everything that facilitates teaching; and you may rest assured that the collections of the Normal Schools, and the supplies of instruments of the University, Faculties and Cabinets of Physics, Chemistry and Natural History in the Colleges, have greatly improved, and in some cases are almost complete.

I must tell you that the teaching in the Universities is very satisfactory. The courses of study are in every way suited to our social condition, and the attendance of the students is constant, thanks to the able direction of the Rectors.

Pending your sanction of the Bill laid before you, an order has been put in force assimilating the courses in both Universities, thus surmounting the difficulties in their relations.

I cannot terminate this chapter without a word in reference to the Cordoba Observatory and an event which raises it in the estimation of the whole civilized world. The Observatory has continued its arduous work during the past year, examining our unexplored heavens and following the course of the innumerable heavenly bodies that pass across the instruments. In its Meteorological Department also, the labour of defining the temperatures, rainfall and winds of our country, and the colossal work that is the result of these investigations, has earned for the Director of the Observatory the very highest distinctions from the scientific world. The Observatory of Cordoba has given to the Argentine Republic letters of citizenship amongst those nations that espouse the cause of science.

I have given you a broad sketch of Public Instruction in the Republic. You know its wants and its resources, and it now falls on you to foster its development, as it is the best guarantee for the exercise of their liberties by republican peoples.

WAR AND MARINE.

The regular army has not been inactive. To the South, North and West of the Republic it has continued the work of conquering the desert, fighting with notable daring and self-denial.

In my last message I told you that the Second Division was preparing to take possession of the territories South of the Rio Agrio, and sweep the remains of the tribes about there back to the Andes, thus opening the gates of Patagonia, from the sea to the summits of those mountains; that the 3rd Division would occupy the Central Pampa, and the 4th would operate in the Chaco.

The first two of these operations have proved completely successful, and the last is being carried out.

General Villegas and the Rio Negro Division merit special mention for having closed the war against the Indians which began in the time of the Spaniards, and opened up rich and unknown regions for the nation. The fighting Indians have thus disappeared from the vast scene of the Pampa and Patagones—without any danger of their return—to give place to a kind of fight that will be more useful and profitable for civilization.

The Minister of War will give you an account of the improvements introduced in the administration and organization of the Army, and the wants to be filled to make it answer its purpose; also of the discipline and rapid progress of the Navy which, in this time of peace, discharges important duties by surveying our far-stretching coast, sounding and buoying the ports, and drawing up maps of the coasts and our rivers.

Before concluding I beg to tell you that, in view of the general prosperity of the country, the confidence that exists in the present order, and the security that no one can ever again place the constituted authorities of the Nation in danger, the Executive is thinking of laying before you a Bill to restore their rank in the Army to those chiefs and officers who were cashiered owing to our civil dissensions. In this there is no political purpose whatever, but simply a desire to efface even the remembrance of our past convulsions and unite the Argentine Family, so that all its members may contribute to the aggrandisement of the Nation.

Considering the brilliant prospects of the Republic, we must forget that these Chiefs ignored their duty to their Government, and only remember that some have grown old in the encampments, others have shed their blood on the field of battle, and all have done good service towards the organization and glory of their country.

Gentlemen — Senators and Deputies.

Thanking Divine Providence for the blessings showered on the Republic, I declare your session open.

JULIO A ROCA.
